Studies

Attorney - University of Chile

Relevant work experience

She joined the Office of the Comptroller General of the Republic in 1974, performing duties as an attorney in the Process Recordings (“Toma de Razon”) and Registration Division. Later she held the positions of Head of Committee, Technical Adviser and Head of the Legal Branch of said division.

From 2002, she served as Head of the Municipalities Division, and from 2006 she served as Head of the Administrative Audit Division. She was appointed Deputy Comptroller General of the Republic in 2011. In that role she holds the position of Judge of Accounts of First Instance. Since April 11, 2015 she is the acting Comptroller General.

In her career at the Office of the Comptroller General she has led processes of institutional improvement, particularly with regard to auditing systems, risk matrices and strategic and operational planning. She is in charge of the anti-corruption agenda since 2010.

She has participated in various roles in different commissions from international organizations, as an expert in conventions against corruption (both Inter American and United Nations), where she has been responsible for assessing compliance with these conventions in case of Dominica, Ecuador and Venezuela.

She has led instances of collaboration with Supreme Audit Institutions with programs such as the Integrated System for Audit Control, (SICA) developed by the Office of the Comptroller General.

In February 2014, she was appointed to the Independent Audit Advisory Committee of the United Nations which, among other functions, must advise the General Assembly on the scope, results and effectiveness of audit and other oversight functions; as well as on measures to ensure that the Administration complies with audit recommendations and other oversight suggestions and guide the Assembly on steps to increase and facilitate cooperation between supervisory bodies of the United Nations. Since January 1, 2015 she has served as Vice Chair of this Committee.
